Little Passports

Amy Norman is the co-Founder and co-CEO of Little Passports, a children's media company. Little Passports inspires children to learn about the world through month subscriptions delivered via postal mail and online games.

No stranger to world travel, Amy has a deep passion for raising a generation of global citizens. Norman herself grew up moving every three years from England to the U.S., and went on to study Spanish and International Studies at The Lauder Institute at the University of Pennsylvania.

Prior to co-founding Little Passports, Norman worked in finance and strategy at McKinsey. She then joined the team at eBay, where she met co-Founder Stella Ma. Amy currently calls San Francisco home, and enjoys exploring the city and the world with her two children, Cole (9) and Will (6).
