

Join Us For Our Small Business Conversations!

Two guests this month from the Small Business Development Center - Jill Kline and Tee Rowe

We find most business owners are not aware of the Small Business Development Center (SBDC). America's SBDC represents America's nationwide network of Small Business Development Centers (SBDCs) - the most comprehensive small business assistance network.

SBDCs are hosted by leading universities, colleges, state economic development agencies and private partners, and funded in part by the United States Congress through a partnership with the U.S. Small Business Administration.

There are nearly 1,000 local centers available to provide no-cost business consulting and low-cost training to new and existing businesses.

Small business owners and aspiring entrepreneurs can go to their local SBDCs for FREE face-to-face business consulting and at-cost training on a variety of topics. Learn more about how SBDCs are helping local businesses start, grow and thrive.

Join us

this Thursday evening as Jill Kline, state director of the Wyoming SBDC and Tee Rowe, president of America's SBDC come to share how the SBDC can be of help to your current or proposed business.

We promise you are going to find this to be an informative evening with the focus being our making the connection between your business and the SBDC in your area.

You likely have questions you would like to ask of our experts and we will be glad to have our experts answer them during the program.

Send your questions today. It will be the start of a wonderful relationship between you and America's Small Business Development Centers.
