CELEBRATING 40 YEARS

Justine Benisch

Justine Benisch is a Partner Marketing Manager at Google and the team lead for Grow with Google's Partner Program. Over the course of her 6 years with Google she has traveled to 42 states helping jobseekers and small businesses learn about digital skills via in-person training sessions and 1:1 work time. As the daughter of a small business owner, she strives to learn all she can from partner organizations who support small businesses every day, and endeavors to provide training and resource solutions to help them in their work. Justine has a BA from The Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, MD and (until recent events have obliged her to work elsewhere!) works out of the Google office in New York City.
