

Brook Boehmler is the Regional Director of the North Iowa Area Small Business Development Center hosted by the Pappajohn Entrepreneurial Center in Mason City Iowa. Since starting in 2014, Brook has developed and led several statewide business education programs for his organization and designed and maintained a new client tracking system. Brook has had four SBDC State Female Entrepreneur of the Year award winners and three SBDC State Entrepreneur of the Year award winners. His office also recognizes the local regional entrepreneurs on a monthly basis.

Brook has a Master of Business Administration from the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque and a Bachelor of Science in Marketing with an emphasis in Computer Science from Missouri State University. Prior to his current SBDC Regional Director position, Brook served as the Director of the Chamber of Commerce, Mainstreet, and Tourism organizations in the Greater Franklin County Area, after coming to Iowa in 2007. Brook previously served as the Mayor of Hampton, Iowa from 2014 to 2019. Brook had a successful exit from a software business in New Mexico and numerous regional and international business endeavors based out of southern Missouri before coming to Iowa.