

Liam McMahon, Business Advisor, Binghamton SBDC

Liam joined the SBDC April in of 2018. He has experience working and owning a business in the construction and real estate development fields for a combined 14 years. He has also spent time in academics, where he developed skills in grant writing. In the fall of 2019, Liam was hired as the region's technology advisor and frequents technology related events and seminars; outreaching to tech company start-ups and existing businesses, Liam's expertise Includes SBIR/STTR assistance, team formation, lean startup, business model testing, government procurement, construction and real estate development, project management and he is a Certified Lean Six Sigma Green Belt.