

2022 Indiana SBDC State Star Bio: Patrick Moeller

Patrick Moeller is a Business Advisor for the Hoosier Heartland Indiana Small Business Development Center. Patrick came to this position after extensive work as an Instructional Designer and Training Specialist in the Employee Training and Development department at Purdue University. Before his return to his alma mater, he served as a Productivity Improvement Coordinator responsible for implementing the DuPont Production System for DuPont Pioneer. During his time at DuPont Pioneer, he earned his Lean Practitioner and Six Sigma Green Belt Certifications. Patrick is an accomplished Value Engineer and former Plant Manager for a small business with 200 employees. Patrick grew up in the Greater Lafayette area and spent over 20 years working for two companies in Southern Indiana after his graduation from Purdue University. He received his bachelor's degree in Organizational Leadership and Development in 1985 and returned to the Lafayette area in 2009. Besides Patrick's interviewing, hiring, on-boarding, training, mediating, mentoring, and managing hundreds of employees for many years, he is an avid tennis player and Head Coach of a High School Varsity Tennis team.
