

Anwar came into his position of Center Director whole heartedly. His goal was not to make a name for himself in the community but to make a name for the community and the surrounding areas. Why you ask because Taos is home.

In his experience of working with Fortune 500 companies in 3 different countries, the satisfaction to him is being able to bring that understanding of business to rural New Mexico. Anwar says "We have such a rich and diverse culture that sets us apart, we need skilled and diverse counselors knowledgeable in startups to succession planning, agriculture, social media and the internet. Being able to bring that knowledge home is the unexpected satisfaction of this job. Success stories bring me satisfaction on a level I didn't know I had, helping people succeed is who I am."
