

Karie Armstrong has over 25 years' worth of experience in the retail industry managing and developing large shopping malls. Prior to that, Karie was a retailer and ran her own consulting business. She has worked with the SBDC for 10 years and specializes in lease negotiations, site selection for retail, restaurants, and any other brick and mortar start-up or expansion. Karie is an excellent instructor and teaches a variety of workshops to small business clients throughout the L.A. SBDC Network.
