

Michael Frank
Homestretch Mortgage
Louisville, KY

A native of Lafayette, Louisiana, Mike Frank has spent most of his life in Louisville. He attended Byck Elementary, Highland Middle School and is a proud graduate of Trinity High School. During his time at Trinity Mike played football and hockey.

After high school, Mike worked for an electrical company for a year. In 2003 he decided to join the United States Navy to help pay for school and serve his country. For four years Mike served as a nuclear conventional mechanic on the USS Abraham Lincoln CVN 72 stationed in Seattle, Washington. He also played hockey for Navy. Due to his exemplary service, he received a letter of recommendation from Rear Admiral Goodwin in 2005. In 2007, Mike returned to Louisville and continued his work as an electrician. He went on to earn his electrical certification for the state of Kentucky, which is a 4-year program with the Independent Electrical Contractors (IEC). While working full-time and attending the IEC program, Mike earned an AAS in Mechanical Engineering from the Sullivan University College of Technology Design.

Mike enjoyed working as an electrician, but his passion was found elsewhere. He had always been fascinated with real estate. As a young man, he dreamed of becoming a real estate investor. With his background in mechanical and electrical work, Mike gained a firm understanding of the construction process. However, he wanted to learn the business side of real estate. Therefore, Mike became a mortgage lender in 2010. On a daily basis, he thrives on helping his clients achieve the American dream of homeownership. Mike also devotes his time and energy to educating his clients in the areas of debt consolidation, credit repair, and budgeting. Mike Frank has found his passion and calling in life. He firmly believes that when you love your job, it's not work.

To supplement his passion for helping others Mike volunteers with Blessings in a Backpack, serves on the Board of Directors for the Mortgage Bankers Association of Louisville, Board of Directors for Junior Achievement of Kentuckiana, Honorable Kentucky Colonel, heavily involved with the Greater Louisville Association Realtors and the Crescent Hill Community Council.

Mike and his wife of 7 years, Lauren, have two beautiful daughters, Alivia Jean, Macie Lee, and reside in the Crescent Hill area of Louisville.
